These braided wires, which we control, gave us rulership of tiredom.

The Goodyear Secret

The No-Rim-Cut tire is a Goodyear invention, and we still control it.

An essential feature is these braided wires, which no one else can make.

This tire can't rim-cut—that we guarantee. This fact has saved motorists many millions of dollars.

It has also made Goodyears the world's favorite tires. They now out-sell any other.

Ruins Almost 1 in 3

Time and again we have gathered statistics to show what rim-cuts cost. This year we employed certified public accountants, so the figures could not be disputed.

They examined thousands of ruined clincher tires, taking them as they came. The old-type, hooked-base tires. And they found that 31.8 per cent had been discarded for rim-cutting only.

That's almost one tire in three. That conveys some idea of the saving accomplished by this Goodyear No-Rim-Cut tire.

This hookless tire makes it essential to have an unstretchable tire base. It must be held on, under every strain, so that nothing can stretch the tire over the rim flange.

We get this by vulcanizing into the tire base six flat bands of 124 braided wires. See picture at the top.

This tire can't be forced off. But when you unlock and remove a flange it easily slips off. There are no hooks on the base to "freeze" into the rim flange, as with old-type tires.

Controlled by Secrecy

These braided wires are made under lock and key—made by secret machinery. They cannot be imitated. And it seems that a faultless tire of this type cannot be made without them.

Makers have tried it again and again, but thousands of the tires came back for replacement.

So the wish to end rim-cutting has forced tire users to Goodyear No-Rim-Cut tires.

Hundreds of thousands of men have adopted them. And this tire has become, after eight years of tests, the leading tire of the world.

How We Combat Two Other Ruinations

Next to rim-cutting, the costliest items in tire upkeep are due to blow-outs and tread separation.

To minimize blow-outs we use the "On-Air Cure." The tires are final-vulcanized on elastic air bags instead of an iron core.

This prevents the fabric from buckling and wrinkling. It equalizes strains. Thus we avoid the cause of countless blow-outs.

This "On-Air Cure," used by us alone, adds to our cost $1,500 daily.

Tread separation, when it occurs, comes near the breaker strip. This is the fabric strip which comes between the tread and carcass in a well-made tire.

For this strip we use a patent "rivet fabric." This permits us to run, from the tread to the carcass, hundreds of large rivets of rubber. Then the tire is vulcanized en masse.

We have exclusive use of this patent. No other tire can thus prevent the ruin of loose treads.

No-Rim-Cut tires, with these costly features, used to cost one-fifth more than clinchers. Now they cost no extra price. This is due to our multiplied output.

Our dealers are everywhere.

JUDGE LAWLESS UPHOLDS BACKUS

I told him that was a—of a statement for a chief to make."

After the call of eight or ten witnesses, who did not respond, the petitioners rested their case, and the defense offered much evidence to show that conditions were better at Ocean View this year than ever in a long time past.

R. T. Gunn, superintendent of the Virginia Railway and Power Company, said that his company had this year been hauling 16,000 people every Sunday to Ocean View, and that July 4 it hauled 24,000 people there. Mr. Gunn said that better order is being maintained at Ocean View this year than ever before in his knowledge.

Dr. Turner said that the order at Ocean View this year is 100 per cent better than it ever has been before.

Judge Lawless said he appointed Chief Backus to improve conditions at the View, and asked Dr. Turner if conditions had improved. Dr. Turner said they had materially improved. Dr. Turner recited the split in the Ocean View Improvement League, which came, he said, because the league would not lend itself to prosecution without knowing what the evidence was against the alleged defendant.

E. A. Page said good order was being maintained at Ocean View. Dr. R. W. Sturgis testified likewise.

It was alleged that Chief Backus had ignored a letter of the league. Dr. Turner and Mr. Page said Chief Backus had answered in person, and said that but for his throat, which prevented him being out at night, he would attend the league meeting.

S. E. Brace and J. E. Heath appeared for the petitioners, and Judge Thomas H. Wilcox, R. Randolph Hicks and Captain R. W. Tomlin, for the defense.

Sayre Must Prove Character.
[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
New York, August 2.—Francis R. Sayre, fiancé of Miss Jessie Wilson, who is alleged to have been admitted to the bar as soon as he can satisfy the appellate division he is of "good moral" character.

Mr. Sayre was notified today he had passed the legal examination. If he can pass the moral test he will be admitted to practice in the fall.

Hot July in Lynchburg.
[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Lynchburg, Va., August 2.—The month of July, according to the local station of the weather bureau, was the hottest in Lynchburg since 1891, while the precipitation, 1.53 inches, was the smallest since 1883, leaving the rainfall deficit 2.33 inches as of the first of the year. The mean temperature for the month was 79 degrees, or 1.7 above the normal.

Wallace—Wey.
[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Lynchburg, Va., August 2.—Everett LeLand Wallace and Miss Katherine Allene Wey, both of Washington, were married Friday evening at the home of the bride's aunt, Mrs. J. E. Leitch, 508 Clay Street, the ceremony being performed by Rev. A. Cooper, of Memorial Methodist Church.

AMUSEMENTS.

Beginning to-morrow and continuing through the week, the Bijou will offer another picture play—a play of such absorbing interest that those who witnessed "Les Miserables" will leave the theatre saying, in spite of that really marvelous production, "the best yet."

"The Mysteries of Paris," a dramatization of Eugene Sue's novel of the same name, will be offered. To those who are familiar with Sue's books, little need be said of the dramatic intensity of his works. "The Wandering Jew" is probably familiar to all who read English. But in the "Mysteries of Paris" Sue has gone into the underworld of Paris and extracted therefrom a story of the pathos of the gutters that must appeal to all. This story the makers of the picture have faithfully reproduced.

The unloving and unfaithful wife, the daughter deprived of her heritage, the prince yearning for the return of the daughter who was taken from him through force of circumstances, all of these things are shown with all the vividness of actual life. The story is told in five reels and as has been the case throughout the summer engagement at the Bijou, the actors are the very best in the several lines.

Four performances will be given daily. The matinees will begin at 2:30 o'clock, while the first evening performance will begin at 7:30 o'clock.

Giant and Pygmies at the Colonial.
Just a glimpse of the tricks played by Dame Nature in the formation of human bodies will be afforded by the novel feature to head the bill at the Colonial during the week to start to-morrow, Wilmer, Vincent & Wells.

engaging their services for the first week in August. George Auger, eight feet, two inches in height, and Ernest Rommel, the smallest living man in the world to-day, being two of the personages to appear in the daintily arranged fairy tale skit "Jack the Giant Killer." Auger, of course, being the giant of the story so dear to childhood days and eventually succumbing to the wily schemes of the little fellow. Four people are in the company, all being tiny bits of humanity, aside from Auger and affording a spectacle as well as an entertaining exhibition of cleverness.

One of the startling surprises of the vaudeville singing world will be among the features in the engagement of Harry Kennedy and Alvin Burt. Writing their own songs, many of which are already famous, there will be furnished the added attraction afforded by intelligent vocalization, some charming dialogue and the attractive gowns worn by the more than usually beautiful Miss Burt.

Of its kind, the equilibristic novelty to be offered by Richards and Brandt promises to establish itself as one of the bright numbers of the bill. Hand-to-hand balancing feats of the most hazardous, as well as the most entertaining, sort will provide a refreshing oddity.

Devoting much of his time to monologues and interspersing his witty sayings with some nicely selected musical numbers, Willie Dick, to whom has been allotted an important place on the bill, will provide an interesting feature.

Prostidigitator and legenderman, which is nothing more nor less than baffling effective sleight-of-hand feats, barling, effective sleight-of-hand feats, wily schemes of the little fellow. Four people are in the company, all being tiny bits of humanity, aside from Auger and affording a spectacle as well as an entertaining exhibition of cleverness.

Picture plays of the universally accepted type will add their share of instruction and entertainment each day to the performances.

At the Little Theatre.

For the past week the Little Theatre seems to have set a new record, for in addition to its regular program, it has shown a new feature every day in the week. M. L. Hoffheimer promises that he will have a two-reel feature at his cool little playhouse to-morrow that will surpass all of the productions of the past week. The Little Theatre makes a cool, pleasant resting place for women and children who are coming home from the sizzling downtown heat. When compared with the outside, the Little Theatre is as cool as an iceberg.
